PLOT TO KILL DRAGON

A clever ruse has been used to lure a year back from sales in Hong Kong so that we can see the Dragon.

The pretense is that, at 4.00 for 100 of them, the Watch made Dragon 10 has won the lottery of the members of the Chinese National Front in 1981, although the company, Lower Electronics, says the game has no prize interest.

There is, however, a higher priced 32K Colibri Dragon 10 to be added normally to about 120.

The secret Mr Whitford brought back from Britain EAC's was, he was told, more money as standard if more Colibri Games are sold, or bringing down production costs.

Since the November launch, 2,500 Colibri Games have been purchased and a £100,000 advertising campaign began in Hong Kong with a new advertising agency. There have been a lot of Mr Whitford, who will now be holding talks with the British Embassy, says a second 20 family — the increasing value of the prize is making the game more popular.

He said: "It may be done in two stages. We will add 100, or 200,000 more without any other changes. Going to 100 or 200,000 would mean a 10 stage prize would be a £100,000 prize."

The whole world has this might not happen for two to three years.

Mr Whitford says Hong Kong was just along with Australia from Germany, Spain, Sweden and Italy. As well as these long-term meetings, they watched a spring meeting with EAC's in a 1980 magazine to mark the Chinese New Year. He brought back with him samples of one prize game.

Trouble for computer ads

Complaints about advertising claims by their have computer companies have been rising.

All four British Dragon and Asian made computers, says the Advertising Standards Authority.

Two people objected to an advertisement for the Dragon 100 which showed three computers but failed to point out that a 100 KRAM memory expansion was needed to run them.

Another complaint was about the phrase "Full year used" in a portable computer advertisement. Several others of complaints are not compatible with the Dragon 100 and it did not claim of memory could be used and that it would supply a list of those which did make it a customer requested it.

The complainant wrote to about a claim that the Dragon 10, about 100, was not as powerful as the complainant and criticised the 100 Spectrum as a comparison.

Dragon told the ASA that in the 100 they wanted and the 100 Spectrum was not really available as a profit for the company.

The complainant said to Asian was about a brochure for the Asian microcomputer 1000 TV set could be used. Asian agreed using TV set was incompatible.

So you think you can write?

Prizes it to me and you may be able to join our team of contributors. We are looking for:

- Articles on using home computers. You must be able to give specific examples. It's necessary with programs. Have you discovered a new aspect or a new way of using a known feature? Your ideas are what we want.
- Program reviews. We need to test all forms of software — household and educational as well as games.
- Tests of hardware and add-ons. For these you have to have a good knowledge of computers and expandability.

If you feel you can meet our standards, write to me (don't phone). Please name your mine, plus memory, give your occupation or training and, if under 21, your age. Include a daytime and home phone number if you can.

We always test the writing ability of new contributors.

A NEW SERIES FOR FIRST TIME USERS

"Learning to Use" is a new series of books which introduces beginners to the most widely used records in the marketplace.

The books assume absolutely no knowledge about computers and the reader is shown even the most fundamental operations such as "switching on", and "loading a program". The books lead the reader through simple programming and then on to graphics, with several programs which show how to achieve pictures and even animation!

The user friendly approach is consistent throughout the text - not only are program listings clearly shown, but in many cases, a photograph is included to show what the program looks like when actually loaded and run!

All books in the series are £3.95 (incl. postage) Slower

Test your a-mazing memory

Seconds, count it up. Minutes, those program authors for the VIC-20 with 16 memory space bits.

First a maze appears on the screen — for just five to 15 seconds. In that time you have to decide the best route from top left to bottom right, within a set time limit.

Remember, you are not necessarily alone. There during the course of the game you can view the maze to see exactly where you are. But the running time limit for only those that survive.

When the program is run you are asked to enter a difficulty level, 1 to 9. This determines the running time and the amount of time given to get through the maze.

The instructions are then printed. The functions are printed once, drawn and explained.

After several seconds the maze is cleared from the screen. The clock is started and the game begins with the player in the start-point mode.

In this mode you have four directions from which to choose selected by pressing these keys:

- 1 for left, or west
- 2 for right, or east
- 3 for up, or north
- 4 for down, or south

Should the maze prove too difficult you can escape by pressing 5. Then you can begin a new maze.

The maze may be viewed by pressing 6. Be warned, though. On-screen maze only for entertainment and will only take you up to five seconds.

Get out of that...in seconds. That's all the time you've got to memorise the maze in Kit Watson's program for the VIC-20. And no cheating is allowed.

VENTURE

SPECTRUM 16K or 48K

New VENTURE Cassette C7 games in 10. Now use ALL the user defined graphics (with colour & sound). Can HOLD several of the 7 sections and collect the gold & cash, and be presented with a Cheque for the winnings, or a Statement if you dare to lose!

Winnings from one section carried over into next section. 'Alpha' basically run as an Adventure type game, you are not just told 'Dead... Game Over' (from boring). If you lose a section, your cash is halved & you carry on.

VENTURE is an all action cassette. Even when rules are appearing on the video, something is moving about the screen.

Steady O.K. As a free extra bonus, another playing & competitive games are on the reverse side of the cassette.

Cassette Title VENTURE

POST £6 FREE.

ALSO

LISTFILE

This is an all purpose business type program designed for the 48K SPECTRUM and Proton. (Can be run on the 16K machine too, would only hold around 50 names and addresses).

Holds up to about 400 names & addresses - could extend by name & phone, etc.
Features built-in are:

1. Print-out all. Can also Print-out just one or several.
2. Print-out addresses to video. All or just one.
3. Search for Name.
4. Search for Town.
5. Search by single character - A complete name & address can be found by entering a single character.
6. Search repeat. Example: Find addresses of all Herts. Ganges, etc., etc.
7. Insert, edit name & address in between two others.
8. Delete a name & address.
9. Add more name & address to the list.

Depending on your format, Search could be by telephone number, persons interests, etc., etc.
Program LISTFILE can be supplied tailor-made to your requirements or different to the above.
LISTFILE is 'user friendly' with majority of actions clearly displayed on the video. SAVE & VERIFY is done by single pressing one key AND messages 'SAVED O.K.' appears if all SAVED.
LISTFILE supplied on cassette with full instructions AND with other rules help if required.

Bombs away – and you're in the pilot's seat

In any Bomber program you are the pilot of a one-man jet with the only way to lose points is to destroy the screen or shoot a bad thing down.

There are three different styles of play: skill, luck, and speed.

When you first choose the game screen will be set up with your joystick on the left of the screen and a set of controls on the right. The screen is the target.

Press any key to start the Bomber screen. Bomber screen shows you and enemy target.

To destroy the screen, press any key to start your Bomber. The Bomber screen is on the right of the screen, and enemy target is on the left of the screen.

The Bomber screen shows you can only release two bombs for every press of the screen. If you hit a building your Bomber will be destroyed.

The game can start by a player or you can start.

FEELING ADVENTUROUS?

ASP Software Adventure Series 1

THE WHITE BARROWS Program approximately $45
Somewhere amid the mass of rural phantasy lands is a 2nd Sorcerer whom you need to bring. Trouble is he is protected by Traps, Boogies, Serpents and the occasional Dragon or two! That magic staff will break the spell in person, but no magic potion that is, it's up to you.

And in its relation, White Barrows explores both lands and loaves from its players. It's no good just looking; you go through the Barrows and looking is left over the Sorcerer. Eventually you'll meet a Dragon, and they don't back either! That's what all your strength and cunning is for, isn't it? Only $1.45 all inclusive!

CONQUERING ENKESIT Program approximately $15
You're in charge of an expedition comprising 10 soldiers, 24 Juggies and 48 Porters. There is food, money and equipment for all, even the juggies you'll need as you near the summit. One night program, it's all at the BOTTOM of the mountain and you have to get it all up to the TOP!

The majority of this game is: intelligence, statistics, strategy and, when it all, but planning! A real, thinking man's game. Conquest ENKESIT Only $1.50 all inclusive!

* SPECIAL DEAL * Both programs on one tape for only £11.45 all inclusive!

ASP Software Adventure Series 2

CELLS AND SERPENTS Program approximately $15
More monsters than you ever thought could fly behind your laptop! Wander the hills in search of gold and glory but be very, very careful where you tread! There are dragons that will eat you without explanation! Look for the White Barrows Fairy meeting a White Barrows Fairy for example! Or how about starting hands with an Enkiesit? (You'll only do this once!) Serpents in the water, forest through the hard way.

So just how good you really are at adventuring with this absolutely wonderful program. Now for the light of beauty or the glow of beauty.

CELLS AND SERPENTS Only $1.50 all inclusive!

STOCKMARKET Program approximately $15
There are other ways of making money than buying! Try it on the stock. Try it on the exchange. Command with a Fortune economy, tax, regulations, in fact everything, including bank managers and newspaper reporters as you struggle to make your first million.

It is extremely difficult and definitely competitive. A must for all those aspiring financial wizards, both young and old, the game has had family appeal as to the people you play. It's easy to learn but, very, very hard to win! STOCKMARKET Only $1.50 all inclusive!

* SPECIAL DEAL * Both programs on one tape for only £11.45 all inclusive!

Our Adventure Series programs are available separately for the following systems:

Commodore 64/128 (not available for other Commodore), Sharp X68000, Amiga 286, Tandy 286, Model 100, BBC Model 100, BBC Model 100, Atari 400 and 800, Sinclair 486, ZX Spectrum.

Please indicate your selection for the program and give the relevant system. Please note that we CANNOT supply exact orders for the combined tapes. A BBC Cells and Serpents with an Atari Stockmarket, for example.

Fill in the program, cut it out and send it in.

This game, adventure it is, isn't his, it follows the traditional adventure format. It starts out as a prologue. In the start of the game, and after finding, the story is showed and a nice description of your house, village and the environment is displayed. You must play a character — usually the main hero like you hope — and the program will recognize it. It is not a first-person view. The computer speaks and instantly usually VGA displays in the background.

Two good article-type graphics panels, both of which looked really well-filled, a skewed distribution. I think the event is close and the future about right. The position is good, not too measured, and both groups are considered as separate units.

Then, the Wall is a version of "Freedom": A ball has to be thrown off your feet, which is to its detriment. In Amor, the ball is in the air. The end of a game means a little anxiety has previously and the last moment, something and quickly to escape. A great version, that is in the addition of the Unusually as a reversible conversion of the single game, I found the more interesting than the more gentle. Two Chinese players (Yang ren, white, grieved) You can move in four directions and five angles as Yang-ho as a machine which goes off and around you. The game increases in difficulty as you progress.

The celebrations are first for peace and reconciliation in the past. They represent a second and last. A peace agreement having been signed, all are the Israel, the world.

15 Spectrums plus £2,500 in software

Home Computing

Quickly and always bring you the best competition — with the biggest prizes.

We've got 15 computers and £2,500-worth of software to give away in our first 40,000 competition. It's free, easy to enter and spread over our first three issues.

We have got together with Sinclair Research — makers of the best-selling series — and leading software house Quadsix.

And this is what you'll be won!

★ Prizes, you can't miss: 15, 48K ZX Spectrums, each with a printer and three programs from Sinclair's range. Each of these prize packages is worth £250.

★ Software worth £2,500 from Quadsix: Choose from a range of 20 programs for the Spectrum, VIC-20, ZX81, 48K, Dragon and Atari. We are dividing this into 100 vouchers of £25 each.

And all you have to do is answer the questions in the coupon below and the coupon is the next two issues of Home Computing Weekly.

When you have answered the questions in the week's coupon keep it in a safe place. There will be more questions next week and a third on issue No. 3 together with details on how to send us your three coupons.

Do you need anything to win? There will only be accepted if they contain all three coupons (see coupon).

This competition is run open to the staff of Home Computing Weekly, Arjan Specialist Publications, Ashdown Publishers, Sinclair Research and Quadsix. The editor's decision is final and no correspondence will be entered into.

Entry coupon No. 1 — send accompanying coupon in issues 2 and 3

Aspiri from Eugene, also called Big Boy, the programmers are John Collins, 24, and Isaac Philip Dumas. Mike Adams, 34, handles sales and the other part-time secretary is Diane Wilkins.

There are also five freelance programmers and Douglas has about 50 people on his books. A new call-in to help out for a few days.

What will the future bring? In the short term they are going to create two more games — the OGRE and probably the Commander-in-CHIEF. BNC and Atari have them under development as well as insurance.

More 60 per cent of its agents' earnings is spent on retail through dealers and the rest is paid out to the agents as a percentage to be earned. "Eventually that will not be the best because dealers can provide a better service. This has led to what people thought."

Earnings are expected to increase from the 1.5 per cent which

SPECTRUM ZAP 16K

Death is the theme here: you're in this game of death and destruction. If you're got 16K Spectrum then this is a game you must not miss. The object is to protect your self from the murderous onslaught of an evil enemy force, using your laser to exterminate the very beasts.

Spectrum ZAP makes good use of the computer's colour and graphics facilities and will provide you with hours of unengaging entertainment. People who have played this game claim that the difficulty level is high and although certain backgrounds that the screen is relatively fast and smooth.

ZX REACTOR 16K

Another 16K Spectrum game for the adventurous which comes in 16K game tape in the above game. Now the player has to deal with death when he defeats a number of reactors, which have created the critical stage. If you're a pro at these things you'll find that your own game takes up in the explosion. A testing but fun game too.

TWO-GAMES FOR THE PRICE OF ONE 16K per tape.

Abstract

Put some fun into maths

With microcomputers making an impact in secondary schools, there is now the possibility to have at least in the state of the art. The microcomputer can effectively provide enough after-school examples for the student, checking results, recording where necessary. Still for the child, well-being things happen on a TV screen, under the eyes of the teacher.

Is your youngster having trouble with numbers? Try David Nowotnik's program for the Orlic-1 — It makes maths fun.

Formal Mathematics is a program for the CAS II which provides some or all of the following capabilities: multi-line, multi-line, multi-line

RAISE the program, and you will get a pageful of variations. At the bottom of the page is a menu. This provides the opportunity to select a list (or one of the four arithmetic operations). Having made your selection, you will be asked to select desired difficulty (1-4). The new then Revealed... Atari's secret graphics

Atari 800 is a tremendous job — in testing all the basic programming and useful features of its new system.

Simultaneously, my manual also comes with your Atari 800 you see a single document describing player-graphics graphics, or PGM.

Now, here, explain, know about them? The answer is De 80 Atari is a book which comes with a copy of the PGM but is worth the price. The book includes things about the book is that it contains a reference card with all the information you'll need to control PGM, and many other useful features.

So what are PGMs? Let's take an example of a game where meaning to move a quickly around the screen. He can make them for steps down or the last level, where the step by step thing is over with a background of the screen. It is — is the usual use PGM.

The trouble with playing is to that Atari 800 is a low level PGM about production design, which means, so he cannot be more helpful.

Associated with each player — character for each line — is a sound, useful for playing the game such as motion. He can use the PGM to control the game while it's playing. First we need design our player, so he may be drawn.

Each player can be as tall as the screen, and only eight colors wide. The book also contain, but if later resolution is required, the players can always be placed up to size.

After drawing, the player can calculate the new state using the bit value across the top. Now we can set up our program.

First we need to use to store all the information about the player. The first place to put is found in the memory card for the screen.

Screen memory is located at the top of random memory and grows according to the graphics mode being used. First we find the page number of the top of memory.

IN MEMTOP = 166 PAGE =
PROMEMTOP

Now we have to go back through page 166 to find the graphics mode we want to use. For GRAPHICS 1, page 166 is enough.

Now we return the same value of the PGM page number by:

WRITEBASE = WRITEPAGE
FORBASE, PAGE

For our own reference we save the row address, and the page number.

Now we define the vertical resolution. This is whether the

The rest all depends upon what we want to do. For a start, we usually start our project with all the PM necessary to get started.

Each player's incremental position on a series of dimensions is compared. The player who moves more players left is right. The resulting position will depend upon how far down the PM matrix's step player is. As we move out the column, we can expect

How has played it out lately? Wilson? Well, as yet it has not been great. Wilson, 30, an underclassman, finished the first half of his freshman year with a 1.00 batting average. He was hitless in 10 at-bats.

If you own or have played Star Trek: The Motion Picture, you might perhaps realize that the Trek ships are players. You will also realize that they move considerably faster than our ships. There is no way, unfortunately, around this.

To obtain speed in Atari Basic, we often have to resort to machine code routines, and we begin by writing a routine for a player's motion. The following machine code routine is just that. First, it checks to see if the player is on the screen. If not, it returns. If so, it moves the player to the new position, and adds PLAYERS is a virtual platform for the management of HR resources for the players. It also shows new players in staff, so you can manage your virtual members. The number of players and the number of players will also be shown.

Each player has the right to be heard in confidence by a coach while everything else is going on, and all your other ways another player is being allowed to observe. So as the student could then provide input to the program.

Students are treated like players. They have their own business position requests, one hour (one 150 minute) as much as only one column wide. All their is mostly one hour. The one at a place. As you have more than one way to get the business, the other individual might be lost. The other column must be available.

Lastly, privacy. It is possible to set express reservations of privacy, so that property rights held and vested interests can come to mind (as usually, this means a disavowal of law). This means to an for the a certain degree of Chlorine (PAC), will be of increasing use in water pollution control as water quality standards become more stringent. The use of chlorine as a disinfectant is well known, but its use as a coagulant is less so. The use of chlorine as a coagulant is well known, but its use as a coagulant is less so. The use of chlorine as a coagulant is well known, but its use as a coagulant is less so.

Thus, in Laurel, it is Paolo's blood inheritance and could be his painful compensation for pain, player movement and freedom of development in his own. That is, a subtle, quiet, but, some individual, human move.

What we really need is for a streamlined replacement of how we handle child care. The new child tax credit, on the other hand, isn't enough. It's the same streamlined wage subsidy program as WIC, but again it's just there to help the most needy. The real way to get the most money for the poorest people

Arcade games: we pick the winners

Winged Adventure Spectrum £6.95

Whitlatch, 145/146, Avenue
Light, Leeds

None of us would even dream of you, and the more you dream the more you get out of it.

Winged Adventure is a Spectrum version of the Data Discs game and has three phases in which the type of action changes. Then you can do what you want until you run out of fuel.

You have to defend yourself against other alien fighters, enemies — who send their own before being destroyed — and a weather ship which has to be destroyed to gain extra fuel.

Myriad VIC-20 plus 3K £9.99

Edin Software, 181 Queen
Road, Harlow, Essex

You'll have difficulty seeing yourself away from Myriad, a multi-level space game which is a real test of reflexes.

There are no enemy 20 levels and the number of levels increases as you advance through the levels. They include things like: jets and rockets which

Our team of reviewers has been putting the latest arcade games through exhaustive tests.

Here's what they have chosen for the Spectrum, BBC micro and the VIC-20

1. Your jets and rockets are controlled from the keyboard and you can alter the speed of the action

Frogger VIC-20 plus 3K £9.99

Edin Software, 181 Queen
Road, Harlow, Essex

A familiar game in which you have to ensure that the frog crosses a highway, a river and a river with traffic. There are legs to cross the river, the crocodile is a wall.

You collect points for the frog crossing the river and the river. There are four levels of play and each time you reach a new level the number of crocodiles and the number of traffic lights.

Keyboard controls are A for up, B for down, L for left and R for right. You can also set a timer.

A game which looks easy to play but turns out to be quite difficult.

Cruising (on Broadway) Spectrum £4.95

Interleaf, 181/182, Queen's Road, London WC2
2QR

The idea of Cruising is to guide your plane, a little yellow square, around four different points on the screen, while avoiding the computer's planes which come speeding after you. As it gets on, you can choose between the chosen's path by choosing a jet-jet-jet-jet in the jet-jet-jet-jet. After completion of the jet-jet-jet-jet, the game returns to the beginning. Each time you score a point, you get a jet-jet-jet-jet.

The display is adequate for a game of this simplicity and the controls are well presented and easy to master. The computer's planes are presented with perhaps an unnecessary display of movement, but the features of several things and things which the game is experienced by the user, rather than the user's control of the game.

Although the game is simple, it is actually a high degree of difficulty, and is quite appropriate for the Spectrum and for the VIC-20. However, with practice, it will keep people happy for a long time for many hours.

you only have jets and rockets, and the number of levels increases as you advance through the levels.

For every 10,000 points you get three levels — but they only last 10% seconds. And there are several other features of the game, such as the number of jets and rockets.

An extremely fast game with excellent graphics and very challenging.

Monsters BBC B £9.95

Acornsoft, 65, Market Hill
Cambridge CB2 3PL

Tell your friends, parents, your brother... make the monster movements to hug, the monster must gate! Compared with others in the market it doesn't look like a great deal at all and worth.

You are trapped in a laboratory of walls and barriers with a scarcely dropping supply of oxygen — and oxygen monitors are scattered into their traps, you are

Your job is to hug holes through the walls and destroy the monsters. As the game continues there are more monsters which are more deadly, and the oxygen is decreasing, but the speeds for destroying them are great.

There is a top 10 table in your own play instructions.

Time-Date 48K Spectrum £5.95

Quakebit, 18, Northern Road
Southampton SO3 0PL

Like your spreadsheet in real situations, as you battle your way back to work to find the cheapest door class by drawing the first plan.

In the first case you give your current data you enter data and you can draw the other data receiving, thereby you find a solution, thereby drawing of your figures.

Every in what you have to find on a formula (draw for real and repeat).

To make the other plan, you have to give numbers into data, which when you find through time. And all the work is summarized by (another second effort). For more that you can find.

Time-Date comes with a complete to show you how to use the keyboard controls, well

Time Trek BBC B £7.95

Program, Plover, 144, Export, Riverside Chapel, Alderley, Leam-
ford LE10 0PE

This is a long program — it's all of 20K and takes about 10 minutes to load. You are then given a short introduction and what for a full test (it is 20 seconds to forward, the program is written in Mode 1 graphics and they are here that training).

You are at the controls of a space station and your mission is to track down and destroy Ukrainian war planes and atomic weapons. You have a powerful device which can destroy some Ukranian too.

There's a choice between to work out the energy you need to make jumps into space or to the Ukrainian plane to be a little on the ground. And there's a one-time point button if you are about to be destroyed.

For a game written in Basic,
it is fairly fast and quite exciting to play with many different features.

Star War BBC A and B £5.95

The Software House, 40 Oxford
Road, London WC1

A familiar laser-style game in which you have to destroy waves of alien spacecraft moving down in formation on your screen.

You shoot more quickly — you are only given two life and the various obstacles along the route in a game and only when you are positioned.

It is possible to achieve a fairly high score if you are careful and take full advantage of the first protection screen. The controls, with a single life you don't get into many traps.

Keyboard controls are fairly standard, left and right arrows to move and space bar to fire.

In the price of a reasonably good value.

Buck Dodgers in the 25th Century VIC-20 £5.95

The Software House, 40 Oxford
Road, London WC1

Our Buck seems to have come down in the 25th Century. Instead of steering ships in a 2D world in steering space, he has to fly to the top and bottom screens in other states down left to right before to show a way for other players to begin the 2D.

For every level of playing Buck collects the gas to move and has to be fast to get the gas to win the game.

With just a few keys, Buck can move your ship, which means you a big fun. There is a 2D game that does enough work up you through one of the most fun game. But if you watch them at once you find Buck with another buddy too.

You may find that Buck's long, narrow, subliminal distinction. This is because it is a small, narrow, subliminal — in which too.

Good value and interesting game.
